

A BOWL OF COLOR
June 17, 2011

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

The composition is a little wild here, but this really is a bowl of color. My son, who is also a photographer, saw this and said "What Photoshop effect did you use, dad?" I told him that none was used. This is just the way it was.

Photo taken today. This is 2048x2048 hi-res for those interested. You can see the fly on the upper-middle flower. This was taken today.

