

ASTROLOGY FRIENDS: T-CROSS to PLUTO
March 20, 2011

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

To My Astrology Friends:

As you well know the Sun is conjunct the planet Uranus and both are square Pluto. It is even more dramatic in the heliocentric chart because the Earth is opposite the planet Uranus forming a T-Square with Pluto at 5 Degrees Capricorn.

It does not take much imagination to take the Uranus-Pluto-Earth combination and come up with air strikes to Libya and the whole earthquake/tsunami/nuclear disaster in Japan, especially the Pluto-Uranus Square for the nuclear situation.

And note that heliocentrically over the last days the planet Mercury in early Cancer has formed a Grand Cross with the Earth, Pluto, and the planet Uranus, further emphasizing Pluto and the T-Cross.

On the photography front, here is yet another photo of the little sedum plant taken yesterday afternoon. Once you click on the photo, then on the left menu you can download and view it large to good effect.
