

THE OTHER NIGHT

August 15, 2013

By Michael Erlewine (Michael@Erlewine.net)

Chad Stanton sent me this video of my daughter May Erlewine and her husband Seth Bernard performing in the Garden Club Park in Rockford Michigan last Tuesday night. Margaret and I were there, along with several hundred other folks. I don't travel much, but I travel to hear these two play because it always opens my mind and lets some space in.

It was nippy, since this August has been as cold as September, so folks wore coats and few sandals. Of course, we were within feet of the Rogue River, so the breeze was up.

May and Seth did two sets and the listening was good, as always. Here is a song from that night which someone recorded of May singing a song she wrote called "What Makes You Alive?"

"What Makes You ALIVE?!"

<https://www.facebook.com/sethandmay>

<http://www.sethandmay.com/>

