Ann Arbor Blues and Jazz Festival 1972 at Gallup Park - Ann Arbor, MI

Notes: Gary Grimshaw: Ann Arbor Blues and Jazz Festival 1972 Gary Grimshaw: there are four different versions of this, and the only difference between them is the ticket information (at the bottom of the poster). I think this is the second version. The last version was meant to sell at the show and there is no ticket information. The commemorative one has not ticket information.

And there is one before this that has less information. And there is one after that with more information. And a fourth edition that had no information.

Gary Grimshaw: All Grimshaw: I just did the art and then Peter Andrews and John Sinclair would arrange for the printing.

Notes: Gary Grimshaw: I was the art director for the Blues and Jazz festival in 1972 and 1973. There were four different versions of the poster and probably dozens of different versions of the flyer. We would just crank them out and Peter Andrews would distribute them all over the Midwest, you know. We did a lot of printing.

Billboard: Ann Arbor Blues and Jazz Festival at Gallup Park

Notes: Gary Grimshaw: This is a billboard. It was right downtown Ann Arbor in the bar zone. This is the sketch for it. We painted it in the Rainbow Production space and it was huge. And we painted it. The billboard company gave us the panels. And we painted it and they put it up and it was up for two months. It was funny, because we were so thrilled. It went up on a Sunday morning. We had been working on it for weeks. And they are puttin' this up. But the guy who showed up to put it up. He was ... it was too early for him or something. He almost fell down and broke his neck puttin' the thin up, you know. You can see the grid system on it? That's how we did it. We did the sketch. And then we got the big panels up and drew the grid on there and painted it. That was fun doing that.

It was based on this painting, a festival... I can't remember the artist who did it. Bruegal. And we used that as a model, but instead of native costumes, we put everybody in hippy garb. But that was just a sketch that we worked from, but the original painting was great.

Right after the festival, they pasted something else over it. It's gone.
